Round 2 Engagement Report

This document summarizes what we heard from the community through Round 2 of the community engagement process, which focused on gauging support for the ideas gathered through Round 1 engagement. For more detail on the process undertaken in Round 2, please see 'What we did' on page 3. For information about and the results from Round 1 engagement, please see the report released online at esquimalt.ca/engage. The following sections are included in this document:

Project Overview

In January 2017, the Capital Regional District and the Township of Esquimalt agreed on an amenity funding package associated with locating the wastewater treatment plant at McLoughlin Point. A one-time Capital Regional District contribution of $17 million—the McLoughlin Point Amenity Reserve Funds— will be used for capital projects in:

1. Waterfront parks = $7M
2. Downtown recreation facilities = $5M
3. Downtown emergency services and public safety facilities = $5M

More information about the funding criteria for the three funding categories above is included in Appendix A.

A public engagement process (see Figure 1) was undertaken by the Township to inform the use of the funds. Using input from the public engagement process, established selection criteria and the funding criteria, Council will determine which projects will receive funding.

Engagement Opportunities

Round 2 of the community engagement process focused on gauging support for the ideas that emerged through Round 1 engagement. Input in Round 2 was gathered through a survey tool that was accessible online and at a mobile engagement booth in place at key locations and community events from May 24 to September 23, starting with the Esquimalt Farmer's Market and ending with the Children's Story Festival. In total, 1771 people responded to the survey, with 835 responding that they live in Esquimalt and 934 stating they live outside of Esquimalt. The list of engagement opportunities, communication channels and the survey questions are provided below.

I was wondering there could be consideration towards expanding the Out Of School Care Program at the Rec Center. I heard there will be a new one at Saxe Point but I think the waitlist at the Rec Center (not to mention all the other programs) speaks to the need of more spaces. I think a portable at the Rec Center would be a great solution. I hope this is given serious consideration. Thank you, Sarah McEwan	Sarah McEwan Esquimalt	2018-05-17 15:37	Website Entry

As you may know that the Gorge Waterway area were once a very alive and fun places to visit for people who lived on the Island, especially Japanese Canadians. There was a restaurant named "Japanese Tea House." We have lots of historical memories around the area. The Japanese Canadian community now is very tight and help each other. However there is no gathering place for us. It would be very nice if we can have a facility to use and share the joy of activities with other people. Thank you for the opportunity to provide input on the use of the McLoughlin Amenity Funds. It is an exciting time for the Township of Esquimalt, investing $17 million dollars in capital improvements to waterfront parks, community recreation facilities and public safety facilities. I would like some of the McLoughlin Amenity Funds directed towards replacement and enhancement of the aged and delapidated playgrounds at L'Ecole Macaulay Elementary at 1010 Wychbury Avenue (south-east side). Enrolment for Macaulay Elementary this year is over 470 children. The Macaulay Elementary school grounds provide recreational green space, playground equipment and act as a community hub for hundreds of Esquimalt families. While not included for discussion in the phase two public engagement, in my opinion L'Ecole Macaulay Elementary is as central an amenity in Esquimalt as the many other important waterfront and downtown locations listed (e.g. Macaulay Point, Bullen Park, other waterfront parks). Healthy, inclusive communities start with healthy, inclusive schools -- please consider investing some of the McLoughlin Amenity Funds into a fully accessible, safe playground for hundreds of kids living in Esquimalt.	Stephanie Hazlitt Esquimalt	2018-09-18 21:08	Website Entry

Thank you for the opportunity to complete the online survey about amenity funding. It not only allowed me to indicate my priorities, it outlined various considerations and possibilities to me. In addition to the information I have provided through the survey, I would like to contribute the additional wishes: Firstly, would the Township consider contributing to playground improvements at local schools, working with the other funders actually responsible for these? Specifically, the playgrounds at Macaulay Elementary are end-of-life and many people in our community use them in addition to the 500 students and their siblings and all the related out-of-school care groups including those from Esquimalt Recreation. Secondly, the family bathrooms at the Rec Centre are great and in such high demand we could use twice as many (it's a long cold wet wait with kids after swimming lessons and the locker corridor gets very congested). Thirdly, bathrooms with running water at Memorial Park would be a great asset, especially during the wonderful programming that takes place there such as Music in the Park and the Esquimalt Farmers' Market. Thank you for all the things you provide; we love living in Esquimalt.	Kirsten Andersen Esquimalt	2018-09-19 13:18	Website Entry

I would love to see some of these funds put toward the replacement/upgrading of the Macaulay school playground equipment as the current playground is no longer serving the needs of the school (unsafe, frequently broken, wood is decaying). Children attend Macaulay and we are active participants in the community. I would like some of the McLoughlin Amenity Funds directed towards replacement and enhancement of the aged and dilapidated playgrounds at L'Ecole Macaulay Elementary at 1010 Wychbury Avenue (south-east side). Enrollment for Macaulay Elementary this year is over 470 children. The Macaulay Elementary school grounds provide recreational green space, playground equipment and act as a community hub for hundreds of Esquimalt families. While not included for discussion in the phase two public engagement, in my opinion L'Ecole Macaulay Elementary is as central an amenity in Esquimalt as the many other important waterfront and downtown locations listed (e.g. Macaulay Point, Bullen Park, other waterfront parks). Healthy, inclusive communities start with healthy, inclusive schools—please consider investing some of the McLoughlin Amenity Funds into a fully accessible, safe playground for hundreds of kids living in Esquimalt. I would like to see some of the McLoughlin Amenity Funds directed towards replacement and enhancement of two of the playgrounds at L'Ecole Macaulay Elementary at 1010 Wychbury Avenue. Two of the playgrounds are getting old and parts of them are broken. These playgrounds are well-used throughout the week: during school hours by the 470 students who attend Macaulay, after school by the three out-of-school cares that service the school, and evenings and weekends by the surrounding community. As the only elementary school in Esquimalt, I believe the school's playgrounds provide a vital amenity to the community in general	Sue Fox Esquimalt	2018-09-20 10:54	Website Entry

As part of Gorge Park, under the Gorge Bridge is perhaps one of the most historic locations on Vancouver Island. The intact remains of the midden there date back at least 4200 years. This is also the location where Princess Camosun met the transformer spirit and Victoria was created. Having some form of tribute even as a mural under the bridge would significantly add to the cultural experience if a tea house is added to the park. I'm sure the Songhees / Esquimalt people could suggest an appropriate tribute.	Tom Bown	Aug 26, 2018	Facebook

It would be great if you could fully fence in the off leash dog park area and add some benches. Esquimalt doesn't have a fully fenced in dog park and this would be an ideal location. It would be fabulous to have a concession here. A place to grab a coffee or even picnic lunch. A nice public dock for launching kayaks, canoes and SUPs. Pave the main walking paths. Solar lights along the paths. Compostable station for dog poo. Seating in a few shady areas (bonus points if the shady area still had a view of the water). Fix the drain in the inner circle which plugs up many times a year or provide canoes to get through it. And some kind of program to bring an end to the spear grass which is taking over what should be enjoyable grass areas without having to factor in an ER (vet & human) visit after the walk. My niece wrote an open letter to the City of Edmonton and I thought her words rang true for all municipalities... We may not have the same 30 million to spend, but I echo her sentiment so I'm just going to post it here: Marielle Elizabeth An open letter to The Edmonton Project and Mayor Don Iveson, I can't shake the feeling that we collectively keep missing the mark. That in this misguided desire to be a world class city, to justify our greatness we keep spending all this money and energy on more. Better. Shinier. Flashier. As good as (insert city here). I have read and re-read The Edmonton Project call for submissions, the goal: Something that contributes to our story. Something you would want to see on a postcard. Something that you would want people on the other side of the world to talk about. In a good way. And I find myself baffled by the final selection - A 3 km gondola that would cost between 30 - 50 million dollars. Did we not just spend 7 million dollars on a funicular? Do we not already have a novelty form of transportation from Old Strathcona to the Downtown that gives stunning views of the River Valley? Is this truly it? The thing our city NEEDS the most - more attractions? Because from where I'm standing if we have 30 million we're looking to spend, to leave a legacy, to proudly share with the other side of the world here are some ideas that I think are dreaming big, really big: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - retrofitting all of our largest buildings in the downtown core to be solar powered - ending child poverty in our city - a massive increase of spending on low income housing - working towards ending homelessness in our city - offering more inclusive and subsidized learning opportunities to new immigrants to Canada And while those may not look as cool on a postcard, I for one would love to visit the city that ended poverty, the city that pushed for a better quality of life for it's newcomers, the first downtown core in Canada that is entirely solar powered. That collectively devoted it's energy and resources to being an amazing place for all it's inhabitants - each and every one. That the extra 10 minutes it may take to bike, or bus, or drive, or streetcar, or rideshare, or walk from Old Strathcona to the downtown core, are worth it. We could be the city that is all heart. That chose compassion over flash. Why isn't that the legacy we are fighting for?! Respectfully,	Leah ter Hart	March 8, 2018	Facebook

A venue for performing arts, like Theatre Under the Stars Vancouver would be great in this municipality. We are already an 'arts township' and have some great shows here in the summer (Shakespeare, etc.). If we had a proper performing arts venue for summer performances it would be an even bigger draw from around the region. It would need bathrooms (year round) a concession, wings and a backstage and temporary seating and somewhere to store the seating in the off season... Parking could be at Archie Browning, with shuttles during performances to take people who bring vehicles back and forth. Also, spending $$$$ on a performing arts facility could potentially be leveraged to obtain grants to assist with the cost so that our $17M could actually be quite a bit more. Subject: Conference space at Saxe Point Park

Hello Mayor & Council,

I had suggested in my survey for the amenity funds that a conference space at Saxe Point where the old house used to be, be considered. I am just writing to elaborate on how this could benefit the community.

My idea here is a two floored building with the second floor being very open with lots of windows and possibly a bar space. The first floor could have an information or interactive space, offices and a commercial kitchen.

If this type of facility existed in this location I feel that it would bring incredible value to the community. Currently Esquimalt has zero suitable spaces to host events on public lands (sure there is the DND spaces and First Nations Wellness Centre, but they are not necessarily easily accessed).

EFM really wants to be able to host more fundraisers and events within our community. We are super proud of where we live, but its hard to showcase it outside Market days with the lack of infrastructure to host.

I am confident that this space would fetch a high dollar to be rented for weddings and conferences and draw new crowds to our community and coastline. Honestly I really see it being a destination.

I hope that the Township of Esquimalt will consider this idea put forward by myself and the entire Esquimalt Farmers Market team.

Cheers

Dear Rick - nice to see you last week at the GWI meeting.

I also talked with Christina lately and met Robbie at Buccaneer Days - hoping to give him some feedback officially.

I could not attend Branch Out! on May 19 and will not attend World Oceans Day on June 2.

I now appreciate that public displays and a Visitor Centre are unlikely to materialize at McLoughlin Point, site of the new Wastewater Treatment Plant.

Please consider simple maps and displays on historic Victoria Harbour Migratory Bird Sanctuary in your parks, where appropriate (e.g. West Bay Walkway, Gorge Park, Macaulay Point).

I can advise with contents and locations, if you are interested. We have talked about this in the past.

3 main stories here:

- 1) Valuable, interesting and unusual urban wildlife - some of the best in urban Canada, birds, whales, fishes, Olympia Oysters, eelgrass, rare plants and all.
- 2) Decades of deindustrialization, restoration, cleanups and rewilding; $100sM spent by numerous public and private groups, a huge story of restoration of national significance, still unfolding, much of it in Esquimalt.
- 3) Why was this historic (the oldest in Pacific Canada) Migratory Bird Sanctuary established in 1923, why is it still relevant today and recognized as a NatureHood in 2017.

Hoping that this will interest you. Your time and effort are always appreciated.

Yours truly,

Hello,

Won't be able to make it tonight. I love the idea of bike paths that don't involve riding on the road, our roads are so congested as it is.

Also, self-cleaning, single person washrooms would be wonderful to see around the community so people don't use our parks and stairwells as bathrooms. I have used them in other cities and they work very well. I know money is tight, just a thought.

Subject: Please no turf

Hi,

I was concerned to see suggestions of putting artificial turf in bullen park are being or have been considered. Similarly I was disheartened to see turf in Langford near the highway.

Turf has numerous environmental hazards, including heavy metal runoff, damage to earthworms, increased heat over the turf. Critically, turf cannot produce any oxygen or absorb any co2.

Please choose no turf for esquimalt! Health and the environment are more important than arbitrary lawn aesthetics.

Thank you for your time and consideration of this matter.

Righting a historical wrong, by rebuilding Japanese teahouse in Esquimalt

Richard Watts / Times Colonist

Photograph By ADRIAN LAM, TIMES COLONIST

The Township of Esquimalt is being presented with an opportunity to right a historical wrong and create something new to serve the present.

Historical researchers and a Japanese cultural association are hoping the municipality will agree to rebuild a Japanese teahouse in Gorge Park on the same spot occupied by one looted and destroyed during the Second World War. But they also want to see a community centre to benefit all park users.

"To some extent, you could say this would be some righting of a historical wrong," said Tsugio Kurushima, president of the Victoria Nikkei Cultural Society. "But we also want to promote something that would be useful for the whole community."

Kurushima is spearheading a move to persuade Esquimalt to rebuild the teahouse using a portion of the $17 million it has received as compensation for taking on the regional sewage treatment plant now under construction at McLoughlin Point.

He would like to see a facility to recreate the original teahouse, offer snacks and drinks for park users, and provide other space for activities such as meetings or social events.

"The teahouse could be part of a multi-purpose structure that could be used by the whole community," said Kurushima.

"It could address two birds with one stone," he said. "It would right a wrong that took place in the Second World War and build an amenity that would improve the park."

Assisting with research work and commemoration of the original teahouse is a federally funded, national project called Landscapes of Injustice.

Kaitlin Findlay, research co-ordinator and historian at the University of Victoria, said the original teahouse dated back to 1907. A traditional Japanese garden, the first to be created in Canada, was built alongside it in the 1920s.

Findlay said brothers Hayato and Kensuke Takata, who arrived in Victoria in their teens, owned the teahouse and made it a prominent part of Victoria's social scene. Beyond the traditional teahouse, it also included a dance hall, a dining room, a games area and merry-go-round.

But in 1942, the Canadian government began uprooting Japanese Canadians from the West Coast and sending them to internment and work camps in the Interior or the Prairies. An exclusion zone along the coast was enacted.

Victoria, with a small Japanese Canadian community of 270 to 300, was no exception. The Takata family was uprooted and their teahouse left in the care of the federal office of the post-war

FW: importance of increasing pool accessibility through McLoughlin Amenity Fund

Subject: importance of increasing pool accessibility through McLoughlin Amenity Fund

I'm dismayed and concerned about the lack of any mention of accessibility improvements, specifically increasing pool accessibility, in both the McLoughlin Amenity Funds Round 2 Survey at esquimalt.ca/engage and summary of round 1 engagement https://www.esquimalt.ca/sites/default/files/docs/municipal-hall/Amenities/esquimalt_-_round_1_engagement_-_summary_v2.pdf

With the coming Accessible Canada Act canada.ca/en/employment-social-development/programs/accessible-people-disabilities/act-plain-language-summary.html#section2 please take seriously your responsibility to use some of the McLoughlin Amenity Funds as an opportunity to identify gaps and act to improve accessibility.

To at least meet the current standard of other Capital Region municipal pools you would need to:

Build two new accessible change rooms that are up to the standard of other facilities. Rooms need to be large enough and well laid out enough to allow both a water chair and power wheelchair in the room and it still be safe for a client and attendant to move around and access all areas of the room. Rooms need a full length shower and change table accessible to a shower head with safety side rails and adjustable height, overhead lift with xy tracking that reaches the toilet and change table. You currently only have one change room for clients who can't stand. It is too small to allow two wheelchairs in the room. Your change table is too short to hold a person of average height, has no safety rails, is not height adjustable and has no showerhead available for showering those who can't sit to shower. Depending on how your plumbing and weight bearing walls, it would be an excellent idea in as many family change rooms as possible to remove the lips to entering the family change room showers to allow level entry for those with walkers and install shower chairs that fold up (like in the in current accessible bathroom). Even better would be to remove the middle wall and replace it with a moveable curtain to make the changerooms square and roomier for those with walkers and wheelchairs that are able to transfer but find the rooms to crowded and therefore a fall hazard and unsafe

Install a wheelchair ramp or overhead lift to allow access to the main pool for clients who can not stand and pivot safely on a wet surface. Those who can't stand are unable to access your main pool.

Install an overhead lift to access the hot tub. Those who can't stand must currently be physically lifted up into your portable lift chair which limits them to having an attendant with sufficient strength to lift them and poses a risk of injury for their attendants. This can also be dangerous for those with minimal core strength who can't sit without the risk of sliding out of the seat, and requires them to straighten their legs in order to clear the side of the tub, which can be painful for many with arthritis or others with limited knee mobility. The mobile lift is also heavy and cumbersome and moving it poses a risk of injury for your pool staff.

Install additional grab bars in hot tub and install some grab bars in the small pool seating bench. See Panorama as an excellent example.

Install two support rails the entire entrance into the hot tub. There are currently only rails on the stairs, which means people who normally walk with the support of a walker must walk a distance on a wet surface with no support which poses as significant and unnecessary fall risk.

Panorama, Commonwealth and even Juan de Fuca are all excellent examples of accessible pools and change rooms. A lot could be learned by a trip to view these facilities.

It is concerning both that your Accessibility Awareness Committee was dissolved almost a decade ago with no replacement listed esquimalt.ca/municipal-hall/committees/access-awareness-committee and also that their 2009 Accessibility Audit esquimalt.ca/sites/default/files/docs/municipal-hall/accessibility_audit_report_2009.pdf came to the conclusion that "the swimming pool is an exemplary model of accessibility and inclusion."

This report incorrectly states that there is a ramp to access the main pool. There is not. The main pool is only accessible by citizens who can stand and turn on a wet surface with no support bars in an exhausted state after exertion of exercising. Those without these abilities can not use the main pool, and some who currently do use the main pool do so face the very serious safety risk of falling and injuring both themselves and the recreation center staff and other support people who are assisting them.

Your accessibility report fails to mention that every single other municipal pool has overhead lifts or ramps that allow patrons to access both their pools and hot tubs. It fails also to mention that there is only one accessible change room with an overhead lift at Esquimalt, in comparison to Juan de Fuca, Panorama and Commonwealth that have two or three change rooms with overhead lifts. Your accessible change room is also the smallest and most cramped and does not include several of the amenities that are becoming standard in a safe accessible change room.

Those with disabilities have a right to access your facilities safely. A survey to determine the popularity of ideas won't catch these access needs because those with limited mobility are a minority with specialized knowledge. Those with disabilities and those who support them are often working hard to get through their daily life without taking on the extra work of communicating what would make their life better. The general population is often unaware what is needed to make a facility accessible.

Esquimalt pool is particularly valuable to those with disability due to the warmer temperatures and has great staff. Most with limited mobility also live with significant pain and warm water can significantly relieve their suffering and associated stress of chronic pain, while increasing their mobility and function. Pools are key to the physical, emotional and social health of many with limited mobility who are often unable to participate in most other forms of exercise.

The more limited someone's mobility becomes, the more vital it is to their wellbeing and survival that they still be able to access the pool. It is a cruel and unnecessary loss to be unable to access the pool just when we need it most. It is important to remember that those of us who are currently temporarily able bodied will all need accessible facilities in the future in an increasingly aging society.

In the decade that I have brought clients to this pool, during the many times I've overheard other raise concerns about limited accessibility, staff repeatedly site cost as the reason that the pool is inaccessible. I hope you use this fund as an opportunity to change that.

Thanks for considering the rights of our disabled citizens to access public spaces. I look forward to receiving a response. There was no directions about where to direct feedback about the McLaughlin Fund, so I'd appreciate it if you would forward my email on (and cc me), if there are other people who can better respond.

Subject: McLoughlin Amenity Funds - Request for Canoe/Kayak Launch directly to Victoria Harbour (Via West Bay Walkway and/or Capt Jacobsen Park)

Dear Mayor and Council,

(Could you also please forward to appropriate Staff – I did not know who else should be on e-mail list)

I did review and submit the survey/questionnaire regarding ideas for use of the McLoughlin Amenity Funds.

Unfortunately there is no real place to enter ideas not already within the survey.

Could I please request funding a project to construct a canoe and kayak launch, free for use by all, into Victoria Inner Harbour at either/both;

- West Bay Walkway
- Captain Jacobsen Park

It is a terrible shame to be bordering the Victoria/Esquimalt Harbour and Marinas but have no way to launch a small craft into this beautiful location. In the past myself and others have launched via Capt Jacobsen park frontage but it is steep and a real challenge. It is literally a case of so close, but so far.

I did put this idea out of a couple of Esquimalt Facebook groups and got a reply to use the existing ramp at Esquimalt Anglers Boat Launch. However this does not provide access to the Inner Harbour other than by traversing open water around the point, which can cause issues if sea conditions change for your return trip.

Directly access to Victoria Harbour from the Walkway would be a huge draw for tourists and a service for locals.

Thank you for your consideration,
Dean Polvi

Subject: Survey problems

Thank you for the work done so far on the McLoughlin Amenity fund. There has been a lot of good progress with a lot of community consultation.

I do like much of what is in the current amenities survey, but as well, it is very limited set from all of the topics that were submitted.

There were many other areas identified for funding as well.

I would like to see $1M of the $17M of funds put aside for capital grant fund for submissions from Esquimalt residents.

As part of this, I would like the following considered as examples:

I would also like to see $300K set aside for capital costs of deer management. Once the deer management survey is done in 2 years, the next thing will be that there is no funds for deer management. Let's please think ahead as we know the costs that Oak Bay have had so far for tracking and immuno-contraception. There will be capital costs for deer management. Please put the money aside now. This definitely could have been covered as part of public safety for the parks. There are ticks in the parks. Dogs are getting them removed on a regular basis. Check with the Esquimalt Medical Center. Disappointing that many of the other topics from our community have not been addressed.

Also, please put $30K aside for Public safety in the area of our parks especially Bullen Park. There is a capital cost for radar speed signs and software system. This should have been covered as part of public safety for the parks.

Also a $1M could have been set aside for grant program for I&I in support of Gorge Park swimming.

I would also really like to see proper full coverage of Macaulay Park with Shaw Go Wifi for Public Safety and for tourism. This should include a tourism / public safety webcam as part of BlockWatch 2.0 program.

As mentioned, I would like to see $1M is set aside for general improvements for the next 3 years including my topics above.

The way the survey is written, if we do not agree with the selection, we have no way to provide our comments. I would like this added to the next McLoughlin Amenities survey.

Thank you for your consideration.

Bruce Cuthbert

A Public and Historical Amenity for Esquimalt
A Memo For Esquimalt Council from Dr. Jordan Stanger-Ross, University of Victoria

Seventy-five years after looting destroyed Canada's first Japanese garden and teahouse in Esquimalt, the Township has an opportunity to create a new public amenity for local residents and to rebuild a community landmark. The Victoria Nikkei Cultural Society, supported by UVic's Landscapes of Injustice research project, urge Council not to miss this opportunity: use a portion of the McLoughlin Amenity funds to build a multi-purpose facility in Esquimalt Gorge Park that will provide a vital amenity in the under-serviced north end of the Township while at the same time celebrating our diverse cultural heritage and redressing an historical wrong.

The historical case: In 1907, the first traditional Japanese garden in Canada opened in what today is Esquimalt Gorge Park. The garden was designed by Isaburo Kishida, who would go on to create the iconic Japanese section of Butchart Gardens. Alongside Esquimalt's original garden was a Japanese teahouse, a beloved attraction run by Esquimalt locals, the Takata brothers. As one visitor later recalled, "that was a place—something quite wonderful . . . The Japanese Tea Gardens were visited by tens of thousands of people."

What followed is a dark mark on local history. After decades of operation, the teahouse was destroyed by local looters, vandals, and rioters in the 1940s. The results shocked federal officials. An inspector who visited site in May 1944 described the premises as, "just a wreck . . . wanton destruction has taken place." The fate of Esquimalt's teahouse offers important historical lessons. First, that Esquimalt has a long history of cultural diversity of which Japanese Canadians were an important part. Second, when that cultural diversity came under attack in the 1940s, local residents (not just distant federal officials) were responsible.

The contemporary case: Esquimalt is rightly renowned for the exemplary recreational facilities in the south end of the Township. But residents of the north end can feel isolated from these amenities, an imbalance that may be exacerbated with the redevelopment of the area surrounding Municipal Hall. We propose a multi-purpose amenity in the Gorge Park, which in its design will evoke the lost teahouse. Programming will allow the teahouse to serve as a hub for Nikkei tea ceremonies and cultural activities, but, at the same time, it could serve diverse recreational needs and attract residents to one of the Township's remarkable natural environments.

Public response: Today, local residents have responded with overwhelming positivity to this proposal. Despite the complexity of this topic, and the necessity of historical context, the teahouse has, we understand, received a significant share of public voting. Public response to grassroots initiatives, including our booth at the farmer's market, has also been resoundingly supportive. A post on the Esquimalt Community Connection Facebook Page in August received 71 likes and almost uniformly positive comments. With the leadership of your Council, this idea will receive popular support today and create a legacy of which we can be proud.

Personal note: As a resident of Esquimalt, an historian of British Columbia's 1940s, and a devoted user of our Township's public parks and amenities, I am personally delighted by this opportunity. I hope the Council is able to support this positive proposal by the VNCS.
