Labour Relations

Collective Bargaining:

CUPE Local 374's Collective Agreement expired on December 31, 2016. To date, while the parties continue to meet to collectively bargain, an agreement has not yet been reached. In March the two parties met to discuss proposals specific to the Township, and an agreement was reached on those specific proposals.

The Collective Agreement between IAFF Local 4264 and The Township also expired at the end of December, 2016; however no notices to bargain have been exchanged.

Grievances

There is one outstanding grievance with the IAFF that has not been settled at the first step. IAFF has grieved the process for scheduling annual vacation.

Staff Training

The HR staff met with a facilitator at the Ministry of Labour to develop and present information to 26 staff members, including directors, managers, supervisors, payroll and HR staff, on best practices to ensure injured employees return to work on a timely basis to reduce sick leave and WorkSafe premium costs.

Organizational Development & Job Evaluation

- Revised the job description of the part time Archivist position to include some responsibilities regarding records management. The new job was evaluated under the current job evaluation plan, and it was determined that the position remain in its current pay band.
- Reviewed and evaluated the Planning Technician position as the role has expanded, which resulted in a one-pay grade increase to the position, and a name change to Planner 1.

Exempt Salary Review

The HR Director conducted an exempt salary review by collecting and comparing data of 23 municipalities and local governments in the region, up island and on the lower mainland.

General

The CAO and her team of Directors met off-site on January 12, 2018 for a facilitated session regarding improving the effective team, led by Stacy Holloway of the Holloway Group.

II. COMMITTEES

- Staff acted as Recording Secretary and prepared notice, agenda, and minutes of one Environmental Advisory Committee meeting and one Labour Management meeting during this period.
- Staff coordinated Council's annual recruitment process for all vacancies on advisory committees, commissions and board, including advertising, arranging interviews, preparing updated appointment list, and updating website.
